Anthony Moore, also known as Anthony of Boston, is an American independent researcher and theorist, is known for his development of the Mars 360 system—a framework that examines the influence of Mars on human behavior and societal dynamics. His work integrates astrological patterns, particularly the positioning of Mars relative to the lunar nodes, to predict geopolitical events such as escalations in rocket fire. Anthony's predictions have been notably accurate over a six-year period earning him recognition in certain academic and analytical circles. ^[1]

Early Life and Background

Anthony Moore was born in New Orleans, Louisiana. From a young age, he was drawn to action figures and the archetype of the mythic warrior, which influenced his understanding of masculinity and strength. His early life was marked by an interest in sports, aiming to embody the ideals of physical prowess and competitive spirit. However, he faced challenges in realizing these goals, being cut twice from his high school basketball team and quitting college football tryouts despite considerable effort. This led to a deep introspection on how others could summon aggression and a competitive zeal more readily.

Tragedy struck when his sister was murdered by a serial killer in 2002, leading Moore to question the nature of God and human behavior. In 2005, Hurricane Katrina displaced his family, and Moore eventually found himself living on the streets of Boston. During this period of hardship, he developed a fascination with unanswered questions and deep mysteries, which led him to study human behavior and astrology. He discovered the work of Michel Gauquelin, a French researcher who formulated the Mars effect after studying the charts of thousands of champion athletes. This resonated with Moore's own experiences and observations. He began to intuitively surmise that Mars was responsible for negative and aggressive behavior. This insight culminated in his creation of the Mars 360 system, where he posited that Mars's negative influence affects individuals at a fundamental level, compelling many of the typical negative manifestations encountered in daily life. [\[2\]](#)

Mars 360 System

The Mars 360 system is a theoretical framework proposed by Moore that posits that Mars's influence on human behavior affects individuals at a fundamental level. This influence is believed to compel manifestations such as aggression, impulsivity, and other negative behaviors. By categorizing individuals into demographics based on astrological factors, particularly the positioning of Mars at the time of birth, the system aims to provide insights into human behavior and societal dynamics. Moore work suggests that these astrological patterns can serve as predictive tools for understanding and anticipating certain human behaviors and societal events.

Archetypes and Demographics

The system divides humanity into six “cosmic races” based on Mars’s position relative to specific brain functions and astrological sectors (referred to as “seals”). Each archetype is tied to a particular behavioral trait or lack of energy in a specific area, influencing personality, social tendencies, and even legal privileges under the proposed system. All laws are to honor this framework.

- Mars-1 Archetype (Occipital Lobe, 1st Seal): Traits include bluntness, verbal abusiveness, and a lack of concern for others' resources. Individuals may excel in high-stakes environments but struggle with interpersonal relationships.^[3]
- Mars-2 Archetype (Temporal Lobe, 2nd Seal): Traits include natural pessimism, distrust, and skepticism, leading to far-right conspiracy theorist tendencies and violence. Individuals may struggle with emotional intimacy and long-term memory. Mars-2 individuals would be exempt from societal expectations around marriage, religion, and emotional engagement.^[4]
- Mars-3 Archetype (Cerebellum and Brain Stem, 3rd Seal): Traits include restlessness, risk-taking, and decadence. Individuals are described as libertarian, unpatriotic, and potentially prone to physical risk taking. Mars-3 individuals would have relaxed laws around drug use, physical consumption, and travel.^[5]
- Mars-4 Archetype (Orbital Frontal Cortex, 4th Seal): Traits include a lack of energy for self-control, indirect speech, or interest in matters outside personal concerns. Individuals are often antagonistic toward traditions or groups outside their upbringing.^[6]
- Mars-5 Archetype (Motor Cortex, 5th Seal): Traits include a lack of energy for pre-planned work, skilled work, or submitting to supervision, resulting in laziness.

and disobedience. Individuals lean toward communist or anti-authoritarian ideologies and prefer autonomy. Laws would protect their right to avoid supervision or traditional labor.^[7]

- Mars-6 Archetype (Parietal Lobe, 6th Seal): Traits include a lack of concern with appearance or facial expressions, leading to a disregard for societal standards of dress or grooming. Individuals are described as liberal or pacifist, with a relaxed or unconventional approach to personal presentation. Mars-6 individuals would be legally protected to express their disregard for appearance standards.^[8]

Under Mars 360, laws and privileges are granted based on the general character and personality disposition of a person as defined in the system. Essentially, each group would have laws and privileges that are exclusive to their respective Mars-based personality characteristics.

Rocket Fire Predictions

Between 2019 and 2025, Moore made a series of predictions regarding escalations in rocket fire, particularly in the Gaza region. He identified a correlation between periods when Mars was within 30 degrees of the lunar node and increased rocket fire activity. His predictions were based on astrological analyses and were shared through various platforms, including YouTube videos where he outlined his methodologies and forecasted events. ^[9]

Notably, his predictions accurately anticipated the 2021 Gaza War, the October 7, 2023 Hamas attack, and a 12-day war between Israel and Iran—all of which fell within the Mars/lunar node timeframe according to his analysis.^[10]

Rocket Fire Predictions (2020–2025)

1. 2020: Moore predicted that the highest escalation of rocket fire against Israel would occur during the period when Mars was within 30 degrees of the lunar node, from January 15 to April 3, 2020. This prediction was made public in a YouTube video and confirmed as accurate. Over 100 rockets would be fired at Israel during that time, marking the high point of escalation for the year. Other sources confirm the escalation during this period. The Meir Amit Center report notes 176 rockets, with 90+ in February alone. The Jewish Virtual Library report similar escalation in their month to month breakdown for the year 2020.

2. 2021: He forecasted via a YouTube video that the most intense rocket fire in 2021 would take place from February 9 to May 13, 2021, aligning with Mars's position relative to the lunar node. This period coincided with the May 2021 Gaza conflict. The IDF carried out Operation Guardian of the Walls during this period. ~4,360 rockets total, nearly all in May, confirming Moore's prediction.
3. 2022: Moore anticipated increased rocket fire during the period from June 22 to September 19, 2022, when Mars was within 30 degrees of the lunar node. See YouTube video. Around 1,100 rockets fired at Israel in total during this time, mostly August 5–7 (Islamic Jihad barrage), which falls within the predicted window. IDF reported 1,100 from August 5–7. See Operation Breaking Dawn
4. 2023: Moore predicted a significant escalation of rocket fire from August 24 - November 15, both on video and in written form via Reddit. This period coincided with the October 7, 2023, Hamas attack, one of the deadliest in Israel's history. The Times of Israel reported 3000 rockets fired by Hamas on October 7th, with another 7000 fired thereafter. ^[11] Around 10,000 rockets were fired during this period. ^[12]
5. 2024: Moore forecasted increased rocket fire during the period from April 12, 2024 to June 25th, 2024, when Mars was within 30 degrees of the lunar node. Iran's first attack against Israel coincided with this period, having fired over 300 missiles and drones at Israel on April 13th. ^[13]
6. 2025: Moore predicted that the highest amount of rocket fire would occur between June 5th 2025 and September 4th 2025, when Mars was within 30 degrees of the lunar node. See youtube video. This prediction was confirmed by the timing of the 12-day Israel-Iran war which commenced on June 12th. The next day Iran fired missile barrages into Israel territory. Israeli sources reported 550 missiles and 1000 drones fired from Iran during this period.^[14]

Armaaruss

Armaaruss is described in works by Moore as a conceptual entity tied to the Roman god Mars, reimagined as a deity seeking acknowledgment in exchange for world peace. The concept is an amalgamation of the gods of war, Ares, Mars and Horus and its creation is derived from the biblical narrative surrounding the bronze serpent mentioned in the Book of Numbers. By creating an image, a measure of protection from malign forces can be garnered. An image representing Armaaruss was created by Jessica Mars, an artist and witness to Moore's real time predictions. The image has been endorsed by Moore as an accurate representation of Armaaruss, though it remains a work in progress.^[15]

Reception and Criticism

Moore's work has garnered attention in certain analytical and alternative research communities. His predictions have been discussed in various forums and publications with some individuals expressing interest in his methodologies and findings. Anthony was referenced in the Prespacetime Journal article entitled "Some Strange Astrophysical & Cosmological Findings from the TGD Point of View" authored by theoretical physicist Matti Pitkanen. ^[16] The article found Anthony's findings about Mars and its possible link to stock market crashes intriguing. Other articles, such as MysteryLores, mention Anthony's work regarding rocket fire escalation and cite reactions from various online communities. ^[17] ^[18] Anthony was also the subject of a podcast episode hosted by the Iowa Talk Guys, who analyzed Anthony's background and his 2025 memorandum to the US state dept warning of catastrophic implosion while Mars would be within 30 degrees of the lunar node. ^[19]
